DT Student 2016/17

“Completing my teacher training through School Direct this year has been a fantastic decision. Knowing I would be primarily based at Willingdon for the year gave me the opportunity to get to know my department colleagues though my school experience days ahead of time, and by September I already felt like a part of the team. With the support of my mentors and tutors at Willingdon I was able to secure a second placement that was a fantastic fit for me, and helped me progress with my teaching. I have received exactly the same University support as my PGCE peers, but with the added bonus of long term school support with Willingdon, and I would fully recommend the School Direct program as a route into teaching.”
